

THE AAOF HAS A SPECIAL GIFT FOR RESIDENTS

$400 gift

AAOF Resident Gift Program roll-out in 2019 at Annual Session

qualifications

- Applicant must be an AAO Student Member.
- Receive and submit a completed AAOF Residents Gift Program Application at the AAOF booth at Annual Session to qualify for $400 to offset your attendance costs. Gift will be mailed to your preferred address.
- Each person may qualify to receive the $400 AAOF Resident Gift only once.

The AAO Foundation recognizes the importance of residents having an opportunity to attend an AAO Annual Session. Taking in lectures from world class leaders in orthodontics, seeing the expansive exhibit hall and networking with colleagues is key to personal and professional growth. Watch for more details on how to receive your AAO Annual Session support from the AAOF Resident Gift Program.

testimonials

To me, perhaps most importantly, supporting the AAOF nurtures and publicizes a message of respect and endorsement of orthodontic education and the specialty as a whole.

- Steven J. Lindauer, DMD, MDSC
 Editor, The Angle Orthodontist;
 Professor & Chair, Dept. of Orthodontics
 Virginia Commonwealth University

The AAOF is an integral part of the orthodontic specialty. As a resident, grant support from the AAOF to conduct my research has been instrumental to my orthodontic education. I couldn't imagine my residency training without it! AAOF has truly inspired me to invest in its mission and to encourage others to do so as well.

- Spencer B. Crouch, DDS
 Class of 2019, University of Michigan
 School of Dentistry

I believe in the AAOF and support it financially because it is critical to the future success of the profession. Ongoing research into new treatment techniques is essential during a time when technological advances are changing orthodontics at the fastest rate ever.

- John K. McGill, CPA, MBA, JD
 President, John K. McGill & Company

The continued work of the AAOF is not possible without your help!
